HE WILL CONTINUE AS THE LEXOW COMMIT-TEE'S COUNSEL UNTIL THE INVESTI-GATION IS OVER-THE DISCLOSURES

TICLE IN THE WORK.

OF THE LAST WEEK. There will be no loss of vigor in pushing the probe of the Lexow Committee into the Police Department next week and in other weeks to because of the political complications in which John W. Goff, of the committee's counsel, may be involved. It was declared with authority at his office yesterday that he would continue to lirect the active work of the investigation, even if he were nominated and elected Recorder, until

One of Mr. Golf's associates said: "There would be no impropriety in the continuing of the investigation by Mr. Goff as the counsel for the comnittee, even if he were a candidate for the office of Recorder at the coming election. He has felt that his first duty was to the committee, and nothing will swerve him from the course which he promised to pursue when he was chosen to direct the work of the investigation. If he is a candidate it will be with the understanding that he is to continue to serve the committee until the end of the year, when it is expected that the investigation will be concluded."

The Rev. Dr. Parkhurst said late in the after noon: "I talked with Mr. Goff yesterday, and to-day, and I think he has shown a noble spirit putting aside an offer of a nomination for the high office of Mayor because he is determined to go on with the investigation of the Police Department. If he were a candidate for Mayor he would expected to take an active part in the work the campaign, but a candidate for a judicial position is rather prohibited from taking such a part in the campaign. Therefore there would be no impropriety in Mr. Goif's further work for the committee, even if he were a candidate for Re-

In regard to the testimony taken before the Lexow Committee tals week, Dr. Parkhurst said: "I think the evidence has gone further than any heretofore given to satisfy the public as to the corruption in the Police Department, and also has served to touch the respectable people of the community in the spot where they keep their indignation. eyldence as to police brutality was sufficient to convince anybody as to the responsibility of the Commissioners. Good 'Father' Bradley, of Brooklyn, declared that the Commissioners were worse than Coleman for not 'breaking' such a brutal policeman, expressed the opinion which any intelligent man must have."

What was the nature of the latest information conveyed to you regarding official misconduct on the part of one of the Police Justices?" Dr. Park-the part of one of the Police Justices?" Dr. Parkhurst was asked.

"It was information regarding registration and election frauds," he replied, "and it came from a man who is interested in election matters. Another friend has written to me to-day that he had a case fixed in one of the police courts, and he is willing to testify. The Lexow Committee was authorized to investigate the Police Justices, but I do not know where the committee will get through with the Police Department and the Excise Board. The work of the different departments dovetails in such a way that it is only a step from one department to another. New material in the way of information is being sent in all the time. A gentleman from another State came to see me to-day, to give information about a matter concerning an efficial whose name has hardly been mentioned in the investigation. He is a high official.

"I am told that the more decent members of the police force are beginning to feel deeply the disprace of being associated with the disgraced members of the force. Tantmany official went been distincted in the recent revelations. I was told only last evening that a little daughter of a Tammany official went home from dancing-school, where she had been neglected and shunned by the other children, and said to her father:

"Papa, the other children won't have anything to and snumed by the thirdren won't have anything to do with me, because they say you are a thief."

"It is only within a few days that the feeling of shame has struck home with some men. I understand that a large number of policemen would be glad to leave the force if the Commissioners would retire them."

ACTIVITY IN THE GRAND JURY ROOM. SUPERINTENDENT BYRNES CLOSETED WITH THE MEMBERS-THE RECENT STREET OUTRAGES RELIEVED TO BE UNDER DISCUSSION.

There were indications yesterday that the Grand Jury had begun to carry out the orders lately given by Judge Cowing to investigate the recent lawiessness in the city and the apparent demoraliza-Police Superintendent Byrnes went to the District-Attorney's office and remained there only a few minutes before going before the Grand Jury. entrance to the Grant Jury room is now carefully Visitors are questioned closely before being allowed to enter and must show authority for their presence. John W. Goff, of counsel for the Lexow Committee, went to the office of Assistant District-Attorney Battle early in the forenoon, and later was seen in the toom where witnesses were waiting to go before the Grand Jury. In reply to a question as to his presence there he said he was admiring the ceilings. It was suspected that one object he had in view was to cause the indictment of Policeman Ambrose W. Hussey, who made a threat to shoot a witness before the committee on Wednesday and afterward denied under oath that he had made such a threat. Mr. Goff, however, positively refused to tell anything to reporters about his business in the building.

Late in the afternoon District-Attorney Fellows sent out an order for all his assistants to meet him in his office to-day at 11 o'clock. The object of the meeting, it is understood, is to discover if there is a 'leak' in the Grand Jury, and to put a stop to it. Mr. Fellows thinks the reporters are learning more of the proceedings of that body than could come through ordinary channels, and he is destrous of discovering where the information comes from. In his order he said that only physical disability would excuse absence.

Superintendent Byrnes was at the Central Office in the afternoon, but he refused to speak of his visit to the Grand Jury. THE REPORT CANNOT BE FOUND.

Chief Clerk Kipp, of the Police Department, yes terday caused a copy to be made from a newspaper report of an official report which Superintendent Byrnes made to the Commissioners on May 24, 1892. containing a statement by Mr. Byrnes that the Excise law could be only partially enforced by policemen in uniform. The report could not be found among the official records in the clerk's office the other day, after Commissioner Martin had asked why Mr. Byrnes had waited until recently to inform the Police Roard that the Excise law was being constantly violated because of the resolution preventing policemen in plain clothes from seeking preventing poacemen in plain cothes from seeking evidence against offending liquor dealers on Sunday. It was in charge of Deputy-Cierk Delamater, who cannot account for its disappearance. Under the direction of Chief Clerk Kipp, the clerks in the office have searched high and low for the missing document, but in vain. Inquiries have also been made in the Commissioners' rooms and among other officials in the Central Office, but no one has seen the naper.

Mr. Byrnes yesterday declined to say a word concerning the matter. Mr. Martin said he knew nothing about the disappearance of the report, and he declined to say anything about that part of it referring to the inability of the police to enforce the Excise law when in uniform.

TALES OF HEAVY GALES AT SEA.

THE HAMBURG AMERICAN LINE STEAMER CO LUMBIA COMES BATTERED INTO PORT

DAMAGE TO VESSELS FROM DOWN THE COAST.

All incoming vessels yesterday brought news of the damage caused by the recent cyclone, and some of them bore evidence of its fury in missing spars and split sails or damage done about their decks. The Hamburg-American steamer Columbia, from Hamburg and Southampton, arrived here yesterlay after a rough voyage. She began to get strong The wind gradually increased to a gale and finally to a hurricane, accompanied by tremendous sear At 3 p. m. on September 30 an enormous wave broke over the steamer's bows, sweeping everything be ore it and smashing the starboard rail for about vs chocks, and other minor damage was done, After ors was then reported missing from his station. He was G. A. Olsen, forty-five years old, a native of Hamburg. He was, no doubt, washed overboard at the time the great wave boarded the steamer.

On Monday, October 1, the wind hauled to the southwest and blew with terrific force for twentyfour hours. Then it shifted to the northeast and hauled around and ended in northeast. All the time there was a tremendous sea running. After October 3 the steamer had heavy head seas and variable winds to port. The officers of the Columbia said it was one of the worst passages the vessel had

The Spanish Lane steamer Panama, from Havana, which arrived here yesterday reported rough weather off the coast. She left Havana on Septembe 29, and twenty-four hours before she saled news was received of the disastrous flood on the island of Cuba, caused by the great rainfail which accompanied the recent cyclone. It was thought in Havana that 200 lives had been lost and the sugar crop damaged to the extent of $2,00,000.

The steamer Tyrian arrived in the harbor last night from Gibara, whither she had gone for a cargo of bananas. None were to be had, however. The plantations for miles in the eastern end of Cuba had been devastated. About Banes, 599,999 bunches of the fruit, it was estimated, had been ruined.

The underwriters and owners of the British steamship Capac, in view of the meritorious services of the captain and officers in saving the steamer and cargo from destruction by fire, which raged in her bunkers for eight days while she was at sea recently, off the Brazilian coast, met informally in the committee room of the National Board of Marine Underwriters yesterday, C. L. Despard, of the London Assurance Company, in appropriate terms, expressed his pleasure on behalf of his fellow underwriters and the owners of the ship, in presenting gold watches and chains to Captain T. Thomas, the commander of the Capac and to John G. Kish and E. A. Smith, respectively, her first and third officers, as evidence of the ap-preciation of their services. Captain Thomas responded gracefully, and with his officers manition of what they apparently considered was only the performance of duty.

THE COURTS.

CHARGES OF FRAUD AGAINST A FIRM. CORRIGAN & MEYER ACCUSED OF QUESTIONABLE PRACTICES TOWARD THEIR CREDITORS-SOME LIVELY TESTIMONY. .

The name of John B. Alexander, the lawyer recently sent to Sing Sing Prison for three years for frauds connected with the execution of chattel mortgages, figured prominently in a case brought to trial yester-day before Judge Pryor, holding Special Term of the Court of Common Pleas. The suit was one brought by Benjamin Moore & Co. against Michael F. Corrigan and Edward O. Meyer, comprising the firm of Corrigan & Meyer; George W. Pond and the National Wall Paper Company. According to the allegations, the plaintiffs on January 5 last obtained in the City Court a judgment for $14,81279 against the firm of Corrigan & Meyer. An execution was issued on the judgment and was returned wholly unsatisfied. Before this time the judgment debiors had a store at No. 89 Fourth-ave, at which they sold paints, painters' supplies and wallpaper. Before the entry of the judgment it is charged that Corrigan & Meyer authorized a judgment for $1,272 96 to be entered against them in favor of the National Wall Paper Company, and that this was done for the purpose of defrauding their creditors. This was on

It is further charged that Corrigan & Meyer made a pretended sale of their stock in trade and store fixtures to Mr. Pond; that the value of the goods ransferred under such sale was about $10,000, and that the pretended change in ownership made no change in the possession and control of the business. There is still another grave accusation against the leniers in paints and oils. This is, that on the day following the entry of the judgment in favor of the National Wall Paper Company, which, it is alleged, was promptly paid, a meeting was called of Corrigan & Meyer's creditors, and that at this meeting it was represented that this judgment had not been paid, in order to induce a smaller per cent settlement with

The purpose of the suit is to have the judgment in favor of the National Wall Paper Company and the sale to Pond declared void and set uside; to have receiver appointed, an accounting ordered, and in injunction issued prohibiting any interference an injunction issued promining any interestable with the property in question.

The defendants make emphatic and wholesale denials of the charges of fraud. Thus far the livellest feature has been the testimony given by Mr. Meyer. He stated that the whole business of the judgment in favor of the wall paper company, the sale to Mr. Pond and assignment, was transacted by John B. Alexander, a lawyer.

THE SUIT BY HIS NEPHEW, HENRY W. T. STEIN-WAY, ARGUED REPORT JUSTICE INGRA-HAM-DECISION RESERVED.

The trial of the suit of Henry W. T. Steinway against William Steinway and others, to set as a provision in the will of his uncle, C. F. Theodore Steinway, who died in March, 189, was begun resterday in the Supreme Court, before Justice Ingraham. The suit is to have declared void a provision in the will whereby the decedent gave 4.000 shares of stock in Steinway & Sons to certain legatees, among whom were children of decedent's sisters, Wilhelmina, Candidus and Doretta Ziegler and sons of Charles Steinway, on the ground that the stock was given to the trustees to hold and manage until 1994, and that, therefore, there was a suspension of the power of alienation for more than two lives in being

The defendants assert that the plaintiff seeks to deprive the infant children and others of their legacies, and take them to himself as one of the residuary legaters. The other residuary legatees and the trustees protest against this action and declare that the will is not invalid, and that he has received his share, which he keeps in his

he has received his share, which he keeps in his pocket.

The trustees show that there was an increase of the capital stock in 1850 to the amount of $200, one and that the other legatees subscribed for the increase on the faithful credit of the will's being valid, that they gaid the assessments and received the stock, as did also the plaintiff himself, and that the estate has been substantially settled. They declare that the trustees have reinquished their commission, and releases in full were exceeded by all benchelaries including the plaintiff, who is therefore estopped from his claim. At the conclusion of Mr. Steinway's testimony, to which there was no cross-examination, the case was submitted and Justice Ingraham reserved his decision. Sullivan and Cromwell appeared for the plaintiff, is, W. Cotter, for Steinway & Sons, and Mr. Hoyt for the children.

MISS HUNT WANTS THE TAX CUT DOWN A motion was made yesterday before Surrogate Fitzgerald on behalf of Ellen D. Hunt to have an assessment of $5,000 collateral inheritance tax set aside on the ground that it is excessive. A legacy of $50,000 was left to Miss Hunt by her uncle, Wilson G. Hunt, when he died in 1892, leaving an estate valued at $5,000,000. Miss Munt says in her complaint that she lived with the family of her uncle Thomas Hunt, until after the death of W. G. Hunt's second wife, when he asked her to live with him, and daughter, and treated her as such, and she, then daughter, and treated her as such, and she, therefore, asserts that she should be taxed under the statute of 1887, under which her tax would amount to only $7.90.

Mr. Levey, appearing for the Controller, contended that Miss Hunt was called niece in the will,
and that there was nothing to show that she had ever been regarded as the decedent's daughter. Decision was reserved.

THE ACCOUNTS OF THE STUART MILLIONS. Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, has confirmed the report of William P. Quinn, referee. who was appointed to pass upon the accounts of George G. Williams and John S. Kennedy, as executors under the will of Mrs. Mary Stuart, the widow of Robert L. Stuart, who died on December 30, 1891. Mrs. Stuart left an estate estimated to be worth nearly $5,000,000, and under the provisions of her will she gave several millions of it to char-Itable and educational institutions and hospitals in this and other cities, the Presbyterian Church be ing a large beneficiary. Since the executors have had charge of the estate they have received $1,574, 903 16, and have disbursed $3,881,156 38, leaving a balance in their hands still to be distributed of $650,776. The referee found that the accounts of the executors were correct, and his report has been confirmed by the Court.

GUARDIAN FOR THE DODGE CHILDREN. Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, yester-day appointed D. Stewart Dodge guardian of his two children, Guy P. Dodge and Clarence P. Dodge. for the purpose of looking after their interests in the share which they are entitled to under the will of their grandfather, William E. Dodge, Their share in their grandfather's estate is held in trust for them by the Ne -York Life insurance and Trust Company, and the income under it amounts to about $2.50 to each. The same justice has also to about $2.50 to each. The same justice has also appointed Arthur M. Dodge guardian of the estates of his children Marshall J., Murray W., Arthur D., Geoffrey and Percival Dodge, who have an interest in the estate of their grandfather, William E. Dodge, under the residuary clause in his will.

JUDGMENT AGAINST R. OGDEN DOREMUS. The Danbury National Bank secured a verdict in the Supreme Court before Judge Beach yesterday against Professor R. Ogden Doremus and Thomas C. Doremus, for $18.75, in an action brought to recover the value of notes which the bank had dis-counted and which the Doremuses had indersed. The notes came to the bank through a brokerage firm of this city, which received the notes from the Doremuses. It was contended in their behalf that they had never received any value for the notes, and that they had indersed them merely as an accommodation. Judge Beach directed a verdict in favor of the bank.

Some merchants have an unac countable liking for being thought " exclusive."

That's just what we're not-inclusive is better. We want everybody to buy of us. The more we sell, the bigger we grow; the bigger we grow, the better we can serve and the more we can serve, and so we grow bigger and serve better-no limit.
